In probability theory and statistics, skewness is a measure of the asymmetry of the probability distribution of a real-valued random variable about its mean. The skewness value can be positive or negative, or undefined. For a unimodal distribution, negative skew commonly indicates that the tail is on the left side of the distribution, and positive skew indicates that the tail is on the right.

The long tail is the name for a long-known feature of some statistical distributions (such as Zipf, power laws, Pareto distributions and general Lévy distributions). In "long-tailed" distributions a high-frequency or high-amplitude population is followed by a low-frequency or low-amplitude population which gradually "tails off" asymptotically. The events at the far end of the tail have a very ...

Some gecko species don't have sex chromosomes at all and sex is instead determined by incubation temperature. Leopard Geckos (Eublepharis macularius), African Fat-tailed Geckos (Hemidactylus caudicinctus), and Crocodile Geckos (Tarentola mauritanica) all have temperature-dependent sex determination or TSD. Some incubation temperatures produce mostly males, others mostly females, and still ...

Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.

This paper evaluates a new nonparametric rank test for abnormal security-price performance in event studies. Simulations with daily security-return data show that the rank test is better specified under the null hypothesis and more powerful under the alternative hypothesis than the parametric t-test. Unlike previous nonparametric tests, this rank test does not require symmetry in cross ...

The Birth of Probability and Statistics The original idea of "statistics" was the collection of information about and for the "state". The word statistics derives directly, not from any classical Greek or Latin roots, but from the Italian word for state.. The birth of statistics occurred in mid-17 th century. A commoner, named John Graunt, who was a native of London, began reviewing a weekly ...

This survey reviews the large and growing literature on copula-based models for economic and financial time series. Copula-based multivariate models allow the researcher to specify the models for the marginal distributions separately from the dependence structure that links these distributions to form a joint distribution.

November 24th, 2018 Out-of-Battery BANG! When Round Fires Before Bolt Fully Closed. As posted in the Calguns.net a few years back, there was a nasty out-of-battery firing incident involving a BOHICA Arms .510 DTC AR15 upper. The cause of the out-of-battery firing is not certain but it appears that the ammo was not sized properly and the firing pin may have been stuck in the extended position.

In this TFB TV video, testers put a 6.5 Creedmoor up against a .308 Winchester with AR-10 type rifles. The head-to-head test compares the ballistics, trajectory, recoil, and inherent accuracy of the two popular cartridge types. We can't call this a definitive test because most 6.5 Creedmoor shooters run bolt-action rifles.
