this is a book about running, not a treatise on how to be healthy. I'm not trying here to give advice like, "Okay everybody let's run every day to stay healthy!" Instead, this is a book in which I've gathered my thoughts about what running has meant to me as a person. Just a book in which I ponder various things and think out loud.

end the run very fast then you should do 5-10 minutes of easy running as a warm-down. To use me as an example, I like to do 3 miles of progression running at the end of long runs. My typical distance running pace is about 7:00 per mile, so my progression mile paces would usually be about 6:30, 6:00, 5:40.
