"Most of it is completely inhospitable and hostile to life" is a general objection to a general teleological argument on the cosmological level (like how the argument from bad design is an objection to a general teleological argument on the biological level).

The Fine-Tuning Argument, Generalized

Atheists often lose public debates with theists, especially when going up against heavyweights like William Lane Craig. I don't know of an atheist losing a debate to someone who denies evolution. That's safe ground because the atheist can stick to

Why Atheists Lose Debates - Common Sense Atheism

In computer science, artificial intelligence (AI), sometimes called machine intelligence, is intelligence demonstrated by machines, in contrast to the natural intelligence displayed by humans and other animals. Computer science defines AI research as the study of "intelligent agents": any device that perceives its environment and takes actions that maximize its chance of successfully achieving ...

Artificial intelligence - Wikipedia

Can a machine display general intelligence? Is it possible to create a machine that can solve all the problems humans solve using their intelligence? This question defines the scope of what machines will be able to do in the future and guides the direction of AI research.

Collectively, machine learning (ML) researchers are engaged in the creation and dissemination of knowledge about data-driven algorithms. In a given paper, researchers might aspire to any subset of the following goals, among others: to theoretically characterize what is learnable, to obtain understanding through empirically rigorous experiments, or to build a working system that has high ...

On January 1st, 2018, I made predictions (here) about self driving cars, Artificial Intelligence and machine learning, and about progress in the space industry. Those predictions had dates attached to them for 32 years up through January 1st, 2050. So, today, January 1st, 2019, is my first annual self appraisal of how well I did.
